

Every missed call is a job someone else got.

You are on a roof, under a sink, or with a customer. The phone rings and you cannot get to it. That caller does not leave a voicemail — they call the next name on the list.

Do the arithmetic on your own business

Calls you miss in a week	3
What one job is worth to you	$400
Walking to your competitors, every month	$4,800

What Dawnpipe does

- Answers every call.
Days, nights, weekends, holidays. It never puts anyone on hold and it never misses one.
- Books the job into your calendar.
It takes the name, the number and the problem, then books the slot and texts them a confirmation.
- Tells you what happened.
Every call transcribed and waiting for you, so nothing is lost because you were busy working.

Do not take our word for it. Call it right now.

Say your water heater is leaking. You are talking to the exact thing you would be buying.

What it costs

A receptionist, 9 to 5 $3,000 / mo

Dawnpipe, around the clock $399 / mo

No payroll tax, no workers comp, no holiday cover, no notice period. It does not call in sick and it does not quit. Month to month, no contract, cancel in one click — it runs to the end of the month you have paid for, then stops.
